

Anne-rose Obidi

Hello everyone,

My name is Anne-Rose and I'm standing for the mature student / parent / carer officer role. As a parent and mature student myself, currently doing an MBA (Psychology), I know the reality of juggling study with family, work, and caring responsibilities.

Too often our needs are overlooked. If elected, I'll make sure our voices are heard and acted on.

My priorities are simple: Representation and putting our issues on the table at every SU and University level, support in pushing for better access to resources, flexibility, and wellbeing services and building stronger connections and communities so that none of us feels isolated.

I bring skills in leadership, culture and organisational change, and advocacy, with years of experience working across organisations to make systems more inclusive. I'll use those same skills to push for the resources, flexibility, and recognition that we deserve.

With your support, I'll make sure our challenges are addressed and our voices truly count.
