

Dan Hughes

I am fluent in Welsh and would like to help people to speak it more at university and use their language skills outside of university to use it everyday and not being afraid to speak with others and hoping to read and write in assignments or in their use in others.