

Sai Gandhesiri

Manifesto

Hello Guys!

Myself Sai Priya Gandhesiri, pursuing my masters in international business management and data analytics with advance practice. I am from Bharath (India) I am very knee in holding a positions in councils, departments. This become a fantasy for me since my bachelors, where I was elected as treasurer, vice president and president for our department. Being in these roles I found out my self in depth and enhanced my leadership, communication skills which are really needed in the real world. Once upon a time I was afraid to speak with my fellow students in English for more than two minutes from there to being elected as president from our department is an biggest achievement for me. From there I gained my confidence and learnt that going forward and standing up for yourself and others will always brings you joy and peace is what I learnt.

Cutting the story short, I believe my leadership skills and communication skills which I gained from my college made me a fantastic arrival to the UK. I was really trying hard to get to the uk environment, culture. However it was not that hard as an international student.

I believe that, being holding this position student council chair, I will make full justice to the responsibilities.
